

The Enneagram Personality Type Model is an ancient tool that provides us with an extraordinary map of our behavior and the behaviors of others, as well as the causes of these behaviors. When you begin to see others and yourself more clearly, you can attain enhanced levels of communication and improved interpersonal relationships. Being seen and understood by others first begins with you seeing and understanding others, free of judgment. From this platform you can initiate true change of your life experience and your relationships.

In this seminar, structured from a Ghedee Perspective (a non-judgment based philosophy), we will focus on how to recognize, communicate, and relate to every other personality type. Specifically, we will focus on how to change your emotional, mental, and physical experience in relating to others.
